

Sir Corran of Redmount

“By House and Honor! To battle!”

Sir Corran, despite his commoner upbringing, is one of the finest knights every to serve House Gwydion. He has a long and varied service of battle against the Thallain—Unseelie Changelings who attempt to undermine the Seelie traditions of honor and duty at all costs—and against the forces of Banality.

Known most for the battle of Redmount, in which he single handedly defended a weakened dragon until it was able to return to the Deep Dreaming, Corran is a strong and intelligent Knight. He knows that House Gwydion will never allow him to obtain a leadership position, and that sits just fine with him as he also knows that his favorite place to be is on the field of battle.

Certainly, the dance floor is not the field of battle he had originally been expecting to see, but protecting Countess Lux from any harm that might come to her is quite an honor as it comes with invitations to some of the finest Sidhe parties in the land.

Since being placed as her guardian, he’s become very fond of his charge—only carefully has he not added himself to the list of scandalous affairs Sara has been secretly known for. He has, however, become her closest friend, and was responsible for ensuring that Lilah Awning was physically removed from the Freehold when the Sidhe Elders figured out that she and Sara were having “dalliances”.

Goals

- Protect Sara Lux at all costs! If anything happens to her, there is no telling what the incredibly imaginative Sidhe will do to you.
- Seek out opportunities for glory and honor. Just because it’s a party doesn’t mean there isn’t some nefarious ne’er-do-well in need of a good thrashing.
- They say that Sir Talon of House Fiona is the greatest swordsman in the land. You’ll see about that!

Faction: House Gwydion

This house is perhaps the most 'noble' of all the houses. Members of this house are conservative, duty-bound Kithain who place the well-being of their kingdoms above their own, though their rule is often marked by the belief that only members of their house are fit to rule.

House Gwydion controls the Duchy of the Crystal Keep, which encompasses vast stretches of territory North of Austin, including Dallas and Fort Worth.

Seelie Court

The Seelie have a reputation as the guardians of fae traditions. They are the peacekeepers, protectors of the weak, and the ideals of chivalry. Most Seelie seek the reunion between the mortal world and the dreaming, and would like to be back to the time before the realms became divided.

The Seelie Code

- Death before dishonor: honor is the most important virtue, the source of all glory.
- Love Conquers all: love lies at the heart of the dreaming. True love transcends all and epitomizes what it means to be Seelie.
- Beauty is life: beauty is a timeless, objective quality that, while it cannot be defined, is always recognized for itself.
- Never forget a debt: one gift deserves another. The recipient of a gift is obliged to return the favor.

Satyr

Strong, Chivalrous, Stoic and Brave are all apt words to describe a Troll. Tall and noble, these Kithain originally hail from the north, specifically Nordic lands. Supposedly the first noble kith, legend has it they were defeated in a war against the Sidhe and then swore fealty to them. As such, they are often seen as guards or knights in the service of Changeling Nobility. Their valor and taste for hard work has often made them nobility themselves, though the practical, simplistic Trolls are humble enough to not let it go to their heads. As such, they are loyal and honest to a fault, and are often disappointed in the other Kithain for not being the same way. This has led some others to think of them as naive. In reality, Trolls are not stupid, just patient and sometime stubborn, though when pushed too far, a Troll may fly into an uncontrollable rage until either everything is broken or she is taken down.

Connections

Sara Lux – Your noble lady and protective charge, Lux is considered to be fair and beautiful even among the Sidhe. Though any romantic attraction you might have has been cast aside in favor of not being exiled, the two of you nonetheless share a very friendly bond.

Xavier Wildes – Xavier, despite his frightening demeanor, has been very appreciative of your talent on the battlefield. Though you wouldn't consider yourself friends, he is your direct superior, and you're duty-bound to protect him, too.

Lilah Awning – Once, she was a Knight like you. But like too many before her, she got trapped in the web of Sara's endless infatuations, and they began to secretly see each other every night. When the Duke found out, he was furious, and you personally were forced to throw her out of the Freehold.
